Where the Bank is in its role as payee's Bank and is liable under this clause, it shall promptly send the respective payment order to the payer's Bank.

135. The payee's Bank shall be liable before the payee if it fails to execute the payment operation within the terms set out in Art. 37 and shall promptly make the amount of the payment operation available to the payee as soon as it (the Bank) becomes aware that its account has been credited.

136. Where there is an outstanding or incorrectly executed payment operation for which the payee's Bank is not liable pursuant to Art. 134 and Art. 135, the payer's Bank shall be liable before the payer and refund without unreasonable delay the amount of the outstanding or incorrectly executed payment operation to the payer as well as the amounts needed so as to have the payment account back to the condition it was before the execution of the incorrect payment operation.

137. The Bank shall be responsible before the Client for the recovery of any and all direct losses within the amount of proven losses from interest resulting from inaccurate execution or omission of the payment operation.

138. The Client may object to the debiting of his account and request the Bank to refund the whole amount withdrawn from his account within ten days as of the date it was debited, if the payment operation was ordered by or through the payee in abundance by the following terms and conditions:

138.1. at the time the approval for execution of payment operation was granted its exact amount was not specified; and

138.2. the amount of payment operation exceeds the amount expected by the payer considering his previous costs of any such operations.

139. The Client shall present to the Bank evidences with regard to the existence of conditions as set out in Art. 138.1. and Art. 138.2. above.

140. The Client shall not be entitled to any refund pursuant to Art. 138.1, providing he has agreed and was notified of the forthcoming account debiting at least twenty-eight days before the account debiting.

141. Within 10 working days as of the receipt of request the Bank shall refund the whole amount of the payment operation to the Client or reject its refund while mentioning the rejection grounds. Providing the payer doesn't accept these rejection grounds, he/she can object before the Payment Disputes Reconciliation Commission or the competent Bulgarian court.

142. In cases pursuant to Art. 138.2. the Client cannot refer to reasons relating to currency exchange where the applied exchange rate was agreed with the Bank.

143. The Client gives unconditional and irrevocable consent and authorizes the Bank to block the funds to the CLIENT's account, without providing antecedent warning to the Client or requiring antecedent consent from the Client in the following cases:

- When there is information, doubt and / or suspicion that a person other than the Client has gained unauthorized access to the Client's account or there is an attempt to gain such access;
 - Where there is information, doubt and / or suspicion that the funds subject to the blocking have been received into the account as a result of an error, abuse of rights, fraud, cybercrime and / or as a result of other misconduct or without legal grounds;
 - Where there is doubt and / or suspicion of money laundering, terrorist financing or the presence of funds of a criminal origin / in accordance with the relevant provisions of applicable legislation;
- The funds shall remain blocked until the cause for blocking no longer applies and / or until appropriate instructions have been received from the competent authority in this regard.

143.1. In the event that the Client has not provided and / or updated documents, data or information at the request of the Bank in accordance with the applicable provisions of national and European legislation on money laundering, terrorist financing or the presence of funds of criminal origin, the Bank has the right at its sole discretion to block the account and / or terminate its business relationship with it entirely.
